Brainstorms

This is the season to be jolly and thankful, and ye ole editor is both. We seem to be getting the Christmas spirit a little early for us, and we still have almost a week before the big day (when this was being written.) We are thankful for a lot of things, one being simply that we are here to enjoy another holiday season. The past year has been good to us in spite of all the gloom that dominates the world-wide political and economic news. We have missed some opportunities, but have taken advantage of enough to consider the year a good one. We have learned that even if we overeat in calories, we are better off not to overeat in sheer volume. Our family is the children at these times. should not be purchased if

By the time I had delivered each of them to a hundred different places and done a few of my own jobs, it was already time to pick up one or two of the children and take them somewhere else. Those men who think they can manage things all by themselves don't significant poisoning in a cause serious illness if have any idea what they are thinking about! At our house, we child. The verbal battle between the elected Coffee County senator and representative and Coffee General Hospital (or Humana) continues, with the outcome still as much in doubt as it was in the beginning. However, we are sure the publicity had a lot to do with the firm being refused a permit to add on to the Sullivan hospital. On the other side of the coin, we hear through the grapevine that some of the Enterprise doctors have sided with Humana and have either threatened to, or have actually, resigned from the staff of the other Enterprise hospital. We couldn't find anyone to deny or confirm this statement, nor has anyone from Coffee General or Humana made any public statements concerning the matter. We ain't heard the last of Heddy and I were invited to several Christmas parties this week, and ye ole editor was amused at a Friday night party when many in the group realized it was after nine p.m. and the nighttime soap opera was in progress. Since the party was in a private home, they immediately turned on the tube and watched the mean man blow up the oil well rigs on

It was beginning to look like cold weather had forgotten South Alabama this year, but I wasn't complaining. Then Friday night, while most of us slept, someone left the gate open on the north forty and that ole north wind blew us some cold weather. We shouldn't complain because the cold weather is needed to keep the bugs from overtaking us completely next Spring; but those mild fall days make for a much lower utility bill in South Alabama, and we like that very much.

A Star In Elba Tiger Football History

igaed a football scholarship with Alabama last week, i started another chapter i the life of a young man who, in four short years had gone rom just another high school football player to one of the top running backs in the nation. We all know this young man who rushed for almost 4,000 yards during the past three seasons; but about all we really know is that Elba's "No. 33" helped us win a lot of football games. I hope this article will let you get to know just who Don Horstead is, and what a fine young man he has become.

rural Coffee County near the Brooksville Community and. was the sixth child born to Mr. and Mrs. Leavy Horstead. A young boy grows up fast in a large family and wastes little time in assuming his part of the chores. Such was the case in the Horstead family - everyone doing their part to hel keep a large family in harmony. Just for the record, the family now goes like this - Ethel and Leavy (Mom and Dad), Mary Nell 26, Glennett 25, Eugene 24, always having a good time.

Looking back, I think it's better to wait until at least the 8th grade to go out for football. It is a tough game, and unless you're really ready to play, it can wear you out. It's easy to become discouraged when you're young, and it's even easier to quit.'

During his career at Elba, Don led his teams to records of 6-1, 8-2, 9-2 and 7-3. Not

And the Message of the Manger Lives Again, Bringing Good Tidings of Comfort and Joy

> Christmas, season of rejoicing, is with us once again. As we hear, in song and story, of that first Holy Night, of the Miracle and Message of the Manger, may it hearten and inspire us. Not only now, but on every day, let the hope and happiness, the peace and promise of Christmas spread its radiance through our lives: May the boundless blessings of this holy time be bestowed upon you and yours.
